PURPOSE IS TO AID HONEST BUSINESS

Progressive Platform Demands
Real Dissolution of Guilty Trusts

ROOSEVELT DEFENDS WOMEN

Replies to Charge That Miss Jane Addams' Action Was in Bad Taste

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Aug. 30.—Colonel Roosevelt struck up an intimate acquaintance with the rural sections of northern Vermont today during his automobile campaign through the state. He spent most of the day in a motor car, made five speeches and received such a welcome that he said he thought Vermont was waking up.

Before a lively crowd in the court house square here tonight, Colonel Roosevelt made a speech which brought him cheer after cheer. He assailed his critics and defended the Progressive party.

John D. Archibald of the Standard Oil company, and Senator Penrose were attacked for their testimony before the senate investigating committee.

"I have them on my hip," he thought for a time they would do some damage to the Progressive party," he said, "but the Lord hath delivered them into my hands. I have them on my hip. I have them in the open. I'll show them as Israel showed Ammon, hip and thigh."

Colonel Roosevelt spoke as follows:

The Progressive platform is the first platform since the close of the Civil war which has fearlessly and intelligently faced the needs of the people, which has promised everything that ought to be promised, and which has promised nothing that cannot be fulfilled. I call your attention especially to what our platform says about business and the trusts.

The Progressive platform demands efficient and thoroughgoing interstate business. Moreover, the anti-trust law is to be kept on the statute books, and instead of its enforcement against the big trusts being as now, merely farcical, it is to be the duty of the commission to aid in the enforcement of the trust laws, and not merely nominally dissolved, and the men guilty of the misconduct punished.

Help Honest Business Men.

We propose to give the honest business men certainty as to what the law is and is not, so that he will no longer be nervous, and he will know whether he has made himself subject to its penalties.

The anti-trust law by itself can never solve the problem of dealing with the trusts. As at present enforced, and still more as it would be enforced if the recommendations of the Stanley commission were enacted into law, it is and would remain a policy nominally against the interests of the huge, swollen trusts but really in their favor, and a menace only to honest business men with businesses of moderate size.

It is curious to see how closely the old parties stand together in this matter; how eagerly the representatives of the big trusts and their tools and allies in the business world rally to their help, either as against the progressives, or the recent action of Mr. Penrose and Mr. Archibald, a striking illustration of the cleanness with which the Standard Oil trust and its creatures in politics see that their real foes are to be found only in the Progressive party.

Big Trusts Approve Old Platforms.

The Democratic and Republican platforms uphold the anti-trust law as in itself a sufficient panacea, and the anti-trust law is backed by the action of the department of justice in the Standard Oil and Tobacco trust cases, and the other by the action of the Stanley commission in its recommendations. The big trusts cordially approve of both platforms, and they approve of the department of justice and the Stanley commission. Some of the ablest supporters of the Republican candidate are men who are supporting the Democratic platform, and they are big financial magnates connected with a crooked trust which they neither the Democrats nor the Republicans.

WILL PROBE INTO MADERO UPRISING

Senate Committee Wishes to Find What Part American
Money Played

EL PASO, TEX., Aug. 30.—Investigation of the relations of the American capital to the present revolution in Mexico; it will attempt to ascertain the effect of American money on the revolution conducted last year by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., now president of Mexico.

This is made clear in an announcement by Sen. Albert B. Fall of New Mexico, a member of the subcommittee, who arrived here today and immediately began his investigation. With Sen. William Alden Smith of Michigan, chairman of the subcommittee, Senator Fall will look into the conditions in Mexico and especially regarding the American influence on all revolutions since the Diaz regime. Senator Smith will join Senator Fall at Los Angeles, Cal., and returning there will visit various points on the border in Arizona and New Mexico.

The investigation will be reported to the next session of the senate, through the foreign relations committee proper. It may advance evidence regarding the Madero revolution. In this connection Senator Fall today explained for the first time his connection in the charges officially advanced from Mexico City that the United States senator from New Mexico had interfered with the peace negotiations between the Mexican government and Pascual Orozco, the rebel leader.

It was boldly admitted by Senator Fall that he had sought a meeting with the rebel commander-in-chief, although the meeting nor any communication between them transpired. Senator Fall declared that Orozco had made charges that American capital had played an important part in the Madero revolution, and that this was in direct line with the investigation of the senatorial committee of which he and Chairman Smith are the two investigators.

CONTRASTS SAYINGS OF T. R. AND WILSON

Former's Clear and Forceful,
While Latter's Are Not,
Says Johnson

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 30.—Hiram Johnson of California, vice presidential candidate of the Progressive party, arrived here tonight and addressed a capacity audience at the Capitol Avenue theater. His speech was often interrupted by applause and cheers.

At times the orchestra and galleries were a sea of waving red bandanas.

Contrasting Theodore Roosevelt's Chicago address with Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance, Governor Johnson said:

"I listened with intense interest to the remarkable address of our leader, which has been designated as his 'confession of faith,' and just afterward I read with the utmost care the speech of acceptance of the Democratic candidate for president. I commend these two documents to every thoughtful American citizen, that he may read both, and that when he has completed the reading of both he can ask himself the questions: Which of these two men, assuming them to be equal in other respects, announces himself with greater certainty, with greater strength, with greater confidence, which document do I better understand, and which man can I better picture from the print before me?"

"Clear, unambiguous, forceful, direct and certain is the pronouncement of Roosevelt, and I challenge you to apply a single one of these adjectives to the pronouncement of the Democratic candidate."

Discussing the tariff, Governor Johnson declared that the Progressive party stands positively for a protective tariff, but insists on a tariff which shall be represented in the pay envelope of the laborer.

LEADING CITIZEN OF N. M. IS DEAD

BODY SOLOMON LUNA IN A DRIPPING VAT

Believed Well-Known Republican Met Death Through Heart Attack

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 30.—Solomon Luna, for 16 years past Republican national committeeman from New Mexico, the largest, individual owner of sheep in the southwest and the state's richest citizen, was found dead at 6 o'clock this morning, at his ranch on the St. Augustine plains, 75 miles west of Magdalena, Socorro county. The body was discovered in a sheep dipping vat, and was so badly burned in the lime solution in the vat as to be almost unrecognizable.

The discovery was made by Dr. E. E. Spindler of this city, a federal sheep inspector, who was at the ranch to superintend the dipping of Mr. Luna's flocks.

Details received tonight show that Mr. Luna's death either resulted from heart failure or a stroke of apoplexy, and not from foul play, as at first suspected. Emphases on the ranch state that Mr. Luna had complained of a weak heart for several days, and it is presumed that he was seized with a smothering spell during the night and went out to get some fresh air or a drink of water from a hydrant near the vat, when he was overcome and pitched headlong into the open tank.

Because of the remoteness of the ranch from the railway, it was not before news of the death of Mr. Luna was received here; it came in a telephone message from Magdalena. His wife, who is here, was prostrated when told of her husband's death. Burial will probably take place at Los Lunas, Valencia county, Mr. Luna's birthplace. The funeral will be held here either Sunday or Monday.

KANSAS ELECTORAL CASE TO HIGH COURT

Fight Between Taft and Roosevelt Forces Transferred to
U. S. Supreme Tribunal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The fight between the Taft and Roosevelt forces over presidential electors from Kansas was today transferred officially from the courts of the state to the supreme court of the United States. The record of the case in the Kansas courts was filed in the supreme court here. It will be rushed to the printer so that the court may dispose of the case immediately upon convening October 14.

The decision of the Kansas courts was adverse to the Taft followers and the main hope of Taft managers to procure the electoral vote of Kansas lies in the fight to get the supreme court of the United States to reverse the state court.

As shown by the completed record now filed, the Taft forces claim they have been frequently deprived of rights guaranteed to them by the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution. It is charged that the Roosevelt electors procured the signatures of candidates for electors by pretending that they were Republicans and as such would support the party's candidates for president and vice president.

The result of this alleged fraud, it is claimed, will be to deprive Taft men of their right to vote for the person selected by them for president.

ACTIVITY AMONG MEXICAN TROOPS

Object of Extensive Movements
Believed to Be to Trap
Orozco

JUAREZ, Mex., Aug. 30.—Today was marked by extensive movements of troops throughout the trouble zone in northern Mexico. Certain expeditions set on foot during the day indicate that the Mexican government gives all credit to the report that Pascual Orozco is in the vicinity of Ojinaga, along the border to the east. It was announced some days ago that the rebel leader had failed to connect with the main body of rebels sent west into the state of Sonora, and today two strong expeditions were sent to the east with the avowed intention of again trapping Orozco.

It was announced from federal headquarters here that General Huerta, commander-in-chief of government forces in the north, left the city of Chihuahua early today, over the Mexican Northwestern railway, recently destroyed by rebels below Juarez. The number of men accompanying Huerta is unannounced, but it was said that he comes with much cavalry, greatly needed here as General Teller has only infantry at Juarez. Barring future destruction of the railway, the troop trains should arrive here within two days. From Juarez a cavalry expedition will be sent overland toward Ojinaga in an effort to locate the rebel commander, who is said to be leading 1,200 men. General Huerta will establish his base of operations in Juarez and take personal charge.

ASSAILANT OF AMERICAN A MERE TOOL

Assault in Havana Attempt to Get Cuba in Trouble, Belief of Minister

BLAMES BAND OF PLOTTERS

State Department to Make a Strong Protest to Island
Government

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—That Enrique Maza, the reporter who attacked Hugh Gibson, the American, in charge of the legation in Havana, last Monday night, was merely a tool in the hands of Cuban plotters who are antagonistic to the United States and who would like to get the Cuban government into trouble with this country, was the opinion expressed here today by State Department officials. The Cuban minister, Thursday would be done in the case was the declaration of the minister.

This minister has notified his government of the demands of the United States that the assailant be punished. As soon as he is punished, the minister "spontaneously" sent word to "Cuba," he said, "that the United States had laws, rendering virtually immune from attack, the persons of foreign representatives here, and that, on account of this reciprocity, the full vigor of the Cuban law should be applied."

The state department late today was informed by the legation at Havana of the attacks that have been made by a portion of the Cuban press upon Hugh Gibson, charge of the American legation, upon the American contractors, the pressing of whose claims for compensation caused a personal assault upon Mr. Gibson, and upon the United States government and people. The official statement of the state department said these attacks were disgraceful, and while they were not prepared to announce their purpose, it was evident that strong representations are to be made to the Cuban government against this treatment of an American diplomatic officer.

HEAD GAME WARDENS ASSN.

SPEAKS FOR BULL MOOSE

DENVER, Aug. 30.—Because Theodore Roosevelt is strongly in favor of game protection, T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Game Warden association, and secretary of the Audubon society of New York, made a semi-political speech before the former organization here today.

"I'm strictly in favor of protection for the big bull moose," said Pearson. "He's done more for the game interests than the donkey or the elephant or those of more judicial frames of mind ever did."

More than 100 delegates from 30 states are in attendance at the national meeting of William Jennings Bryan will be a guest of honor at a banquet next Thursday night. Among those in attendance are: Dr. J. S. Palmer of Washington, D. C., assistant chief of the United States biological survey; Col. James H. Acklen of Tennessee; Dr. George W. Field, president of the Massachusetts Game commission; Prof. T. T. Dyche of the University of Kansas Museum Natural History; and Samuel Fullerton, one of the oldest game commissioners in Minnesota.

LUMBERMEN'S CODE OF ETHICS ARE TAKEN UP

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 30.—The lumbermen's code of ethics as expressed in the reciprocity agreement between the retailers and the manufacturers was the subject of inquiry in today's hearing of the government's antitrust suit against the Northwestern Lumbermen's association. Victor H. Packman, formerly secretary of the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers association, testified that his association had signed the agreement when it was adopted by the manufacturers. It was never observed by the manufacturers.

Among the new provisions of the reciprocity agreement was one which said: "Manufacturers should not sell to parties who advertise to furnish lumber to consumers at large or who solicit mail order business."

His Death Great Loss to State.

In the death of Solomon Luna, New Mexico loses its most prominent citizen, the Republican party its titular leader, and the sheep industry its most extensive grower. The deceased was born October 15, 1888, at Los Lunas, being a descendant of the famous Luna family of Spain. He was a director in several banks and was known in the state, on an extensive property owner and sheep grower. Though he held numerous offices in his home county, he refused to accept any greater honors in politics, turning down a nomination for delegate to congress some years ago, refusing to become the Republican candidate for governor last fall, and declining to permit his name to go before the legislature this year for United States senator. Mr. Luna was perhaps the best-known New Mexican in national politics, spending many weeks in Washington during sessions of congress. He was one of the leaders in the long fight for statehood.

Did Not Have An Enemy in State.

Additional facts tonight show that Mr. Luna's death was accidental. He did not have an enemy in the state, it is believed, and was on most cordial terms with his employees. His financial affairs were in such excellent shape as to discount any hint at suicide. He was worth no less than $1,000,000, and had several large projects under way and in contemplation. He had suffered from a hardening of the veins for several months, and to those close to him, his sudden death was not a great surprise. He was the most hearty insured man in New Mexico, his policies aggregating upwards of $100,000.

AUTO RACERS FURNISH EXCITEMENT AT ELGIN

Charles Merz, Driving a Stutz Car,
Goes 203 Miles at Average Speed
66.11 Miles an Hour

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 30.—Charles Merz and Gill Anderson, both members of the Stutz automobile racing team, and both driving Stutz cars, furnished the high lights in the opening day's program of the annual Elgin automobile race meet this afternoon.

Merz won the 203-mile Illinois trophy race, over the eight and one-fourth mile road course, in the record time of three hours, four minutes and 32 seconds, after a spectacular driving duel with Anderson. The two drivers were but two minutes apart at the finish.

Frequently they swayed down the hills and through the stretches as a 10-mile-an-hour clip, with less than a dozen feet separating them.

Merz drove the entire distance at an average speed of 66.11 miles an hour. Ben Herr, who won the Illinois trophy with a National car, last year, drove the same distance at an average of 65.63 miles an hour.

W. Hobbs, driving a Bayfield car, and Nell Whalen, with a National, the only other starters in the Illinois trophy race, were eliminated early in the contest by engine trouble.

Although all but one of the six starters in the Aurora trophy race finished, this 150-mile event did not develop the close fight that marked the Illinois. Hugh Hughes Mercer took the Illinois trophy in 2:20.40. His average speed per hour was 65.65 miles. His team mate, Edward Pullen, finished second, with another Mercer.

The third event on the card, the Jenks trophy, did not furnish a contest. There were but three starters, Harry Endicott, Mason Special, W. G. Worthingham, Herrschhoff, "20," and F. W. Moe, with a Ford 1911. Worden Hall dropped out early and Moe ran into the ditch, leaving Endicott to parade home in "Joy ride" fashion.

Danger to Foreigners in Mexico Due to the Collapse of Uprising

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Present unsettled conditions in northern Mexico and the danger to foreigners in that region today were charged to the "collapse" of the Orozco rebellion and the breaking up of the rebel army into small predatory bands. In a statement issued by Secretary of State Clegg, in charge of the Mexican embassy, the danger to foreigners was emphasized.

Senor Clegg said the Mexican federal troops, practically, and disbanded the Orozco forces and that the scattered remnants were seeking to force intervention by the United States, thereby ravaging the border country.

"It is certain," he said, "that the status of the foreign citizen in that part of Mexico where the scattered elements of Orozco's army are now and numerous than it was when the rebel forces were more combined nominally under one leader."

The Mexican military leaders said they tried best to run down and destroy the various marauding bands. While success is attending their efforts, it is patent that the complete restoration of law and order to the states of Sonora and Chihuahua will consume weeks and perhaps months.

"Considering the rugged character of the country and the almost total absence of railroads, and even wagon roads available for artillery use, great progress already has been made by the Mexican federal troops."

For this reason, the Mexican administration thinks it may fairly claim sympathetic consideration and the exercise of patience on the part of the few public men in the United States who have been clamoring for intervention.

Watch This Space Daily PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN BULLETIN

The apathy of voters in the matter of registration is arousing the interest of the politicians of all parties in the present campaign, and meetings will be held from now on in the various precincts to arouse these voters to prompt action.

Next Friday the time for registration expires. This means that in order to be able to cast your vote at the primaries September 10, you must be registered at the court house before Friday of next week.

Voters should understand that if they did not vote at the last state election two years ago, or if they did vote at that election, and have since moved out of the precinct, the law requires that they must be registered before they can vote at the primaries.

Governor West Intends TO REMOVE CITY JUDGE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 30.—Governor West announced today his intention to remove from office Municipal Judge Tazewell, as a further move in his anti-trust crusade in Portland. He charged that Judge Tazewell had failed properly to perform the duties of his office.

George J. Cameron, ousted from the district judgeship by the governor, will file suit tomorrow to unseat H. M. Estery, who was appointed to succeed him. Estery was recommended by the circuit court today and took up the duties of the office.

SEND CARNIVAL PICTURES TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

All amateur photographers, who secured good pictures of events attending the Shan Kiva celebration, and especially of the ceremonies at the dedication of the old Ute trail at Manitou last Thursday, are requested to send them labeled and bearing the name and address of the owner to the Chamber of Commerce, Burns building. Because of the historical importance of the pictures, the Chamber of Commerce desires a complete collection, not only of the Ute trail dedication, but of other events of the carnival. Complete collections of photographs of the carnival last summer, numbering several hundred, were made and one volume of the pictures is on file at the public library and another at the Chamber of Commerce. It is desired to have a pictorial record of the carnival just closed, and those who secured good pictures are urged to send them to the Chamber of Commerce.

OROZCO REPORTED IN TOWN NEAR CHIHUAHUA

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 30.—Pascual Orozco was at Coyama, Chihuahua, yesterday, according to a report today by a telegraph operator. He made no statement as to Orozco's plans.

Coyama is northeast of the city of Chihuahua, about 45 miles south of the American boundary line, and located on a trail to Ojinaga, 45 miles east.

Minister Laseurain of the foreign office said the government was disposed to furnish special trains to bring back to their homes in Mexico all refugees as soon as the districts in which they were located were partitioned by federalists. He referred particularly to the Mormons, who abandoned their colonies in Sonora and Chihuahua.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 30.—Walter Camp, aged 30 years, a lumberman at Midland, was injured internally early tonight when he was run over by a lumber wagon, and died at 10 o'clock while on the way to a hospital here. The accident occurred 16 miles north of Cripple Creek. He is survived by a widow and baby.

Progressive Republicans to Hold Parlor Meeting

Tonight, at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Judge Robert Kerr, 1815 North Tejon street, Dunbar F. Carpenter, candidate for district attorney; Warren M. Persons, candidate for representative to the general assembly; Attorney John L. Bennett and others will hold a parlor meeting to which everybody is cordially invited. At this meeting the matter of registration will be gone into thoroughly, and the necessity for prompt action brought to the notice of voters. The ladies are especially invited to be present at this meeting, as the committee believes that their efforts in getting the voters out to register will assist materially in the general results.

Any question concerning the primary law and the Progressive Republican platform will be answered at the meeting.

WILSON SHAKES HANDS WITH 3,000 PERSONS

SEAGIRT, Aug. 30.—Tired wrists and aching fingers reminded Governor Wilson today that he had spent the most strenuous day of his life in his trip through Pennsylvania. He estimated that he had spoken in his impromptu tour of 210 miles to nearly 40,000 people, and that he had shaken hands in one day with about 3,000 individuals.

The most interesting revelation to Governor Wilson was the fact that he found himself making seven speeches instead of the one he had planned, that he was just as busy on the back platform of his train as presidential candidates always have been and that he was almost converted to the old-fashioned idea of campaigning which at first he had thought to abandon in favor of a few scattered addresses.

"I would enjoy all in fact I would like it," said the governor, "if it were not for the speechmaking. It is difficult to talk while enemies are being switched around you and the names of the railroad yards are distracting. If I did not have to make speeches and could just shake hands I would not mind it at all, for the people seem so straightforward, so hearty and so sincere."

The governor had before him today the prospect of more handshaking. He was to visit the Monmouth county fair at Red Bank, N. J.

PURPOSE IS TO AID

Means menace him on his interests in the slightest degree.

Of all the planks of the Progressive platform, the two which most go to my own heart are the one which deals with social and industrial justice and the one on country life and on the ourselves to legislation looking to the prevention of industrial accidents and occupational diseases. We intend to deal with the problems of involuntary unemployment and of overwork. We pledge ourselves to secure one day's rest in seven for all wage-workers and an eight-hour day in continuous 24-hour industries; the prohibition of night work and the establishment of an eight-hour day for women. We are for equal suffrage for men and women.

Mild Criticism of Elliot.

The New York Times of August 29, in an interview attributed to a prominent citizen who has reputation, criticized and denounced Jane Addams for nominating me, and also criticized the Progressive party for permitting women to be in the Progressive convention. It attacked Miss Addams' conduct as "spectacular and in very bad taste." And also criticized me as being "spectacular" because I "had the bad taste to publicly compliment her on her action and thank her."

My only reference to Miss Addams was contained in the following sentence: "I wish to tell those who proposed and seconded my nomination that I appreciate to the full the significance of having such men and such women put me in nomination." It will be noticed that in this sentence I did not even mention Miss Addams' name, and if President Elliot really considers this allusion to Miss Addams' name as being "spectacular and in bad taste," I should feel a mild and pleasant surprise to know just what he would regard as nonspectacular and in good taste. Among the other sentences in the article were the following: "I would have no proper share in the political convention. We need women to bear children and attend to their homes."

Domestic Life Comes First.

Of course, it is entirely right to say that we need women to bear children and attend to their homes just as it would be right to say that we need men to begot children and make the homes in which the women can live and the children be brought up. One statement is as true as the other, and both come under the head of the obvious. I have said, not once, but a score of times, that I put the domestic life above every other kind of life.

I think the highest life, the ideal life, is the married life, but there are both unmarried men and unmarried women who perform service of the utmost consequence to the whole people, and it is equally foolish and wicked for a man to slur the unmarried woman when he could not dream of slurring the unmarried man.

Now for the statement about women having no proper share in a political convention. That man knows little of our political, social and industrial needs as a nation who does not know that in political conventions the politics that ought to be "regulated" are the politics that affect women precisely as much as they affect men.

Showed Individual Character.

I doubt if there ever was a convention more really representative of the people, and with a higher average of individual character among the representatives, than was the Progressive national convention at Chicago. The spirit in which it met was of deep and genuine religious fervor, a spirit which found expression in singing the noble hymn, "Hymn of the Republic"—a hymn, by the way, which was written by a woman, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, who was wife and mother, and in all relations of both public and private life was one of the best citizens this republic has ever brought forth. I am glad to say that among the representatives in our convention were a number of women, and not only high in purpose, but in wisdom, in character, in cool-headedness and in far-sighted understanding of the needs of the nation, they stood on an exactly equal footing with the men. Our national committee will publish Jane Addams' speech. I ask you to read it for yourselves and then yourselves pass judgment on the food, taste and wisdom of the New York Times in denouncing that speech. One of the memories of the convention which I shall always cherish is that fact that Jane Addams seconded my nomination.

Belief in Woman Suffrage.

I grew to believe in woman suffrage not because of association with women whose chief interest is woman suffrage, but because of finding out that the women from whom I received most aid in endeavoring to grapple with the social and industrial problems of the day were themselves believers in woman suffrage. I see no reason why voting should interfere with women's home life any more than it interferes with the everyday work of the man which enables him to support the home.

The offense charged is "rendering a false report of the financial condition of a corporation to a public officer," and is punishable with from three to 10 years in prison. Aylett Cotton, assistant district attorney, and George S. Walker, state building and loan commissioner, swore to the warrant.

FISHERMEN BARRED BECAUSE OF AN EXPECTED VISITOR

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 30.—That Canadian trout streams are being conserved by policemen that the Duke of Connaught may be insured good sport, is the statement of Claude Hicks, a Portland lawyer and fisherman who has returned from the Canadian Rockies. Hicks said he made a two-day's trip from Calgary to a famous trout stream. Northwest mounted police ordered them to leave the stream, and the fact that they carried licenses had no effect, Hicks declared. The Duke of Connaught is expected to visit that district in September.

SEIDEL ACCEPTS NOMINATION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 30.—Emil Seidel of Milwaukee, the nominee for vice president on the national ticket of the Social Democratic party, today made public his formal letter of acceptance of the nomination.

There was no ceremony in connection with Mr. Seidel's acceptance of the honor as the candidate was said to be somewhere in one of the New England states making campaign speeches for his party.

Boy, Caught in Rope, Carried High in Air by Balloon Before Dropping

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 30.—In the presence of hundreds of persons, 14-year-old Chester Betts, son of Bert N. Betts of Flint, was accidentally caught by the guy rope of a balloon today and carried about 2,000 feet in the air before the rope untangled and burst him to his death. He crashed against the roof of a barn, and was still alive when spectators reached him, but he soon died.

The tragedy occurred at a county fair, and when the balloon and aeronaut shot upwards, many persons thought the youth dangling at the end of the rope was a dummy.

The heroic efforts of the balloonist to rescue the boy soon disclosed the truth to the crowd of people below.

As the big gas bag crept higher and higher, the aeronaut, in peril of his own life, could be seen working desperately to pull the dangling form to the ropes. Finally the rope swirled away from the lad and the tiny form dropped downward like a stone.

BASEBALL COMMISSION EXPLAINS REGULATION

CINCINNATI, Aug. 30.—The national baseball commission, after having received many inquiries as to the right of major league clubs to release a player to a minor league club between August 15 and the close of the current season, under an optional agreement, conferring on the releasing club the privilege of recalling the player during the following year, today issued the following regulations, which will be enforced in the future.

"A player drafted by a major club cannot be released at any time within a year of his selection under a straight or an optional agreement until all the provisions of Section 9, Article VI, of the revised national agreement have been complied with."

"A player released by a major league between August 15 and the close of the current season, under an optional agreement providing for his recall in the following year, will be subject to the drafting privileges of all major league clubs and of all minor league clubs of higher classification than that in whose services he is after August 25."

"Rule 29 of the commission must be strictly observed before a player, secured by a major league club through the purchase of his release or by draft, can be released during the year following that in which such club obtained title to his services."

"A player recalled under an optional agreement by a major league club cannot be released under an optional agreement."

Should Make More Use of School House for Public Conferences

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 30.—Neighborhood consultation and a more extensive use of school houses for gatherings where public opinion might be conserved were advocated by Governor Wilson today in his speech at the Monmouth county fair at Red Bank, N. J.

"There is one thing in which I have been much interested in recent years in this country," he said. "You know, I used to be a schoolmaster, and the interesting thing was the United States makes so limited use of the schools. They are public buildings. They are just what we need for neighborhood conferences of every kind."

Robert L. Ewing, chairman of the press contribution bureau of the campaign committee, said the bureau would be moved to Chicago next week. He brought the governor a letter today which he had received from Governor Colquhoun of Texas, pledging himself as "one of the thousand Texans who would give $100 to the Wilson campaign."

Former American, Now of Britain, Wins Prizes in Aviation Contests

LONDON, Aug. 30.—S. F. Cody, once an American citizen, but now a naturalized British subject, was awarded today the two leading prizes of English army aviation. The first, £5,000, was given for his winning in the recent contest on Salisbury Plain, the competition open to aviators of all nations in any make of machine, and the second—£5,000—for his victory in the contest open only to British aviators using airplanes English made except the motor. In each event Cody used a biplane of his own invention.

Armand Depourdus, a Frenchman, carried off second prize in the first event, amounting to £2,000. He used a monoplane of his own make.

RUMORS OF PRISON RIOT

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 30.—A serious riot is reported to have broken out among the convicts in the state prison here today. The outbreak occurred in the dining room, which was said to have been partially wrecked. Employees of the institution decline to give out any information regarding the affair. Warden Nathan F. Simpson is in Chicago today.

IS BRAND NEW PARTY

ST ALBANS, Vt., Aug. 30.—Colonel Roosevelt made his first speech today to a crowd in the public square here. Colonel Roosevelt continued his attack on John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company and Senator Penrose. As he was speaking a man in the crowd called out:

"Is this the Progressive Republican party?"

Colonel Roosevelt shouted "No, sir. It is a brand new party. When Lincoln left the Whigs there were some bigots who would not vote for him, but as there are now some bigots who will not stand with us."

Democratic Candidate for County Clerk

Take this opportunity of soliciting your support

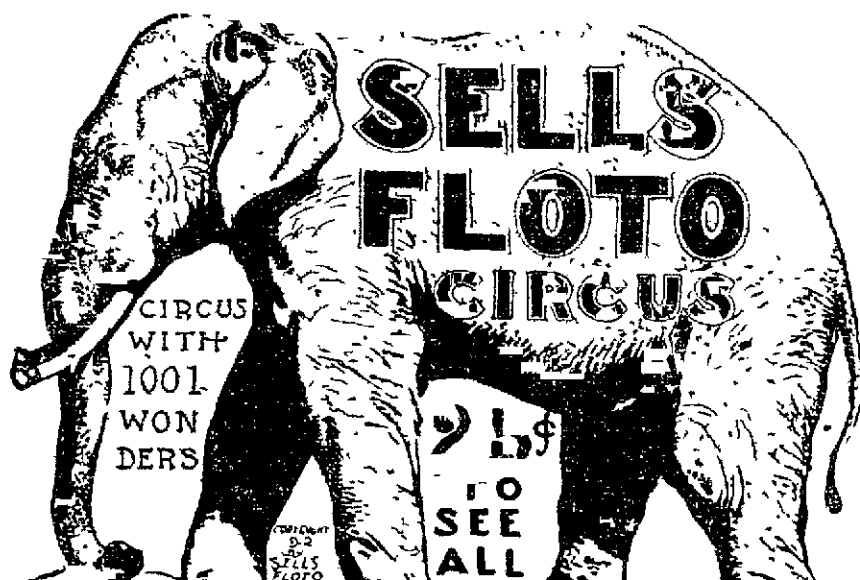

I have been a resident of Colorado Springs and vicinity for the last 14 years and during that time have always been a consistent Democrat. For the last two years I have been clerk of Colorado Springs (Camp No. 722) Modern Woodmen of America.

In the last two general elections I have been a supporter of our present county clerk who is a candidate for a third term. I am making this fight merely on the ground that the Democratic party is not a party that believes in perpetuation of one man in office as good material is not scarce in its ranks.

If elected, I pledge myself to make my appointments from the ranks of the Democratic party.

As it is impossible for me to personally see all of my friends in the Democratic party, I take this means of asking for your support. Any assistance you can render me will be gratefully remembered. In any event, I trust we will all be united for the nominees of our party, whoever they may be after September 10. J. D. CHARLTON

SCROFULOUS TROUBLES

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than the old saying "like begets like," for just as the offspring of healthy ancestry are blessed with pure, rich blood insuring good health, so the children of blood-tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation which fosters a chain of scrofulous troubles. The usual signs of a scrofulous inheritance are swollen glands about the neck, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexions, sores and ulcers and general poor health. Treatment should be commenced at the first indication of Scrofula. It may get beyond control if allowed to run unchecked. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the circulation and drives out all scrofulous matter and deposits. S. S. S. goes to the bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Book on the blood and medical advice free to all who write.

At The Theater

FALL STOCK SEASON OPENS NEXT MONDAY

On behalf of the Burns theater, John T. Hawkins announces that the management have been greatly disappointed in not securing the expected booking of 'Howe's Travelers,' but have received a definite promise from Luman H. Howe himself, that this city will be kept on the list for this exceptionally fine exhibit on their spring tour.

Failing to secure the above it has been decided that owing to the good support which the public have given the Burns theater during the past summer stock season they can with profit to themselves and pleasure to the theater-going public follow the same immediately with a fall season of stock. This season will commence September 2nd, Labor day, with a special matinee and night performance of 'Nobody's Widow,' in which Blanche Bates was starred up to the beginning of this last summer. This is one of Blanche's most acceptable productions and has only recently been released for stock and can only be played in a very restricted territory. Mr. Hawkins considers himself extremely fortunate in having been able to secure this play and promises that we shall be given a production which in every respect will equal the road production.

This romantic society comedy calls for one of the most expensive stage settings that the Burns has been required to furnish. The house will stand up to its record in this respect and will furnish stage settings which will be a delight to the eye.

It so happens that the leading members of the company have themselves taken part in the eastern production of this play and are therefore in fine shape to present it in the best possible form. Very careful work in the shape of rehearsals has been conducted this week and there is no question that Monday's production will be an even greater triumph to the critical theatergoers of Colorado Springs who have always shown good judgment and great pleasure in patronizing Blanche's play.

In connection with the commencement of the new season a rearrangement of the staff has been called for. Mr. I. D. Glass, who acted as producing agent for this summer season, terminates his contract on Saturday next (August 11th).

With considerable regret the Burns announce the impossibility of securing Mr. Richardson for a further stay. His performances have been of a character that undoubtedly grew upon the public. Nothing finer has ever been seen in Colorado Springs than his 'Pierre' of the Plains.

Earl Gardner will for the present take the position of stage director.

Floyd Mitchell retains his position as stage manager.

The very capable Chicago artist Tom Marz is retained for scenic productions with W. I. Burr as house electrician whose good work during the present week is an assurance that whatever electric effects are called for we can rely upon having the best. John O'Neil is retained as stage carpenter with our old friend Ed Craig in charge of the box office and is assistant treasurer.

On Sunday next a sum of the plot will be given in our theatrical columns and possibly the music may be able to announce the full plot the week of September 9.

Mr. Burns has secured the services of a most experienced theatrical man in New York with a view of securing special attractions for his beautiful play house during the fall and winter season outside the stock productions which will be continued so long as the public show their appreciation of them.

'NOBODY'S WIDOW' AT THE BURNS NEXT WEEK

Our leading lady, Miss Wayne, will have a full opportunity in 'Nobody's Widow.' Many of our productions in the past have favored the male part of the cast. Next week it is the lady's opportunity.

Miss Florence Hart is fortunately

SELLS-FLOTO SHOW COMING

The most attractive feature of the average horse show is usually the exhibition made by the hunters and jumpers and indeed when looking over the program more often than not it is found that the more important prize money is devoted to these classes.

This season the Sells-Floto circus which comes here on Wednesday, September 11 for a single day's engagement are bringing with them several high class hunters and jumpers, some of which have been especially imported from Ireland and during the regular performance these clever animals give a very remarkable exhibition of timber-topping. One of them a black well versed in her part and her many admirers will surely be increased.

Mr. Cross has an excellent opportunity. A more conspicuous and pains-taking actor it would be hard to find and in his hands our English friend in 'Nobody's Widow' is sure of an acceptable presentation.

Mr. William J. Fink, whose orchestra is an integral part of our performances has prepared a program for next week that is a concert worth the price of admission in itself.

Special Note—Arrangements are under way at great cost for an early date in October for the president's own band of 50 soloists—the celebrated Marine Band—from Washington, D. C.

NOTES FROM THE BURNS

The last day of 'Pierre' Only this afternoon and tonight. Mr. Richardson concludes his engagement today.

Pierre appeals to every member of the household. Doors open at 1:45 this afternoon when balcony admission may be had. You probably know that the balcony seats are not reserved at the matinee only 25 cents.

The seat reservation for this afternoon is very large and all tickets not called for by 2 p. m. go on sale again.

Hundreds of theatergoers will regret that they failed in witnessing 'Pierre' of the Plains, but then it's too late. Our telephone Main 200 saves a morning trip down-town for seats but we request patrons to please call for such reservations before 2 p. m.

In the superb musical program Prof. William Fink has provided for this week is 'Tales From Hoffmann,' a fantasy in melody.

For 35 cents one may occupy a dress circle seat—reserved this afternoon in a parquet seat for 50 cents—and is assured a performance the equal of a traveling attraction at several times our small cost.

Saturday night if the Burns is designated family reunion night and to night is the night of nights for the play is one that pleases the entire family.

SEVEN ODD STICKS NO. 7 THE FLAGELLANTS

The Flagellants were a fanatical and heretical sect that flourished in the thirteenth and succeeding centuries. Their origin, as at the time attributed to be a missionary effort of St. Anthony of Padua in the thirteenth century, but this is now considered to be unwarranted.

It is a 1269 that we first hear of the Flagellants at Perugia. The terrible plague of 1259 the long-continued famine and anarchy throughout the Italian states the prophetic concurring Antichrist and the end of the world by Joachim of Flora and his like, had created a mindless state of despair and expectation among the devout folk of the middle and lower classes.

Then there appeared a famous hermit of Umbria, Raniero Fasini who organized a brotherhood which spread rapidly throughout northern and central Italy. All ages and conditions were like subjects to this mental epidemic. Clergy and lay men and women even children of tender years scourged themselves in preparation for the sins of the whole world.

Greatest processions—amounting sometimes to 10,000 souls passed through the cities beating themselves and calling the faithful to repentance. With crosses and banners borne before them by the clergy they marched slowly through the towns. Stripped to the waist and with covered faces they scourged themselves with leather thongs till the blood ran chanting hymns and canticles of the Passion of Christ entering the churches and prostrating themselves before the altars.

For thirty-three days and a half this penance was continued by all who undertook it in honor of the years of Christ's life on earth. Neither rain nor snow, cold or heat was any obstacle. The processions continued in Italy throughout 1260 and at the end of that year had spread beyond the Alps to Alsace, Bavaria, Bohemia and Poland.

In January of the following year the pope forbade the processions and they ceased almost as quickly as they had started. In northern Italy in 1334 Ventura of Bergamo a Dominican afterwards beatified attempted to revive the processions of Flagellants and led about 10,000 men styled the 'Doves as fat as Rome.' But he was received with laughter by the Romans and his followers deserted him.

In 1347 black death swept across Europe the following year terrible earthquakes occurred in Italy and with extraordinary suddenness the companies of Flagellants appeared again and spread rapidly reaching as far as England. As soon as the movement had spread across the Alps into Teutonic countries its whole nature changed. The Flagellants became an organized sect with severe discipline and extravagant claims. They wore a white habit and mantle on each of which was a red cross whence in some parts they were called the Brotherhood of the Cross.

Their ceremonial was much the same in all cities. Twice a day they proceeded slowly to the public square or principal church, but first they stripped themselves to the waist and prostrated themselves in a large circle. First they were all beaten by the Master then arising they scourged themselves severely, crying out that their blood was mingled with the blood of Christ and that their penance was preserving the whole world from perishing.

Although as a dangerous heresy the Flagellants are not heard of after the fifteenth century, their practices were revived again and again as a means of quite orthodox public penance. Throughout the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Flagellant processions and self-flagellations were encouraged by the Jesuits in Austria and the Netherlands.

The Artistic Judgment

which was exemplified in our windows during the Carnival was recognized by the committee in charge of window displays by the first prize. In our own business we find a constant necessity for the proper artistic ability. We purpose to carry out this idea in everything we make and sell at this store. The judgment of countless customers of wide experience and unquestioned taste encourages us in our effort to keep our stock one of the most carefully selected, if not one of the largest, in this country.

New York Awaiting Big Mining Merger

The Investors News, a weekly newspaper, published in New York city, continues to print articles concerning the proposed merger of a number of the Cripple Creek mines, with the El Paso forming the nucleus. The following appeared August 21:

A consolidation of leading Cripple Creek mining properties is reported as being consummation, as a result of negotiations due to the recent excellent showing of the El Paso mine and adjoining properties.

In the deal, which will result in the formation of a $10,000,000 company, are the El Paso, Henry Adney, C. K. & N., Old Gold and Kottick mines. Every one of these mines has yielded gold in large quantities, and the El Paso and C. K. & N. have each big dividend records. The Henry Adney and Kottick have been close held, but each has paid large profits to owners.

Efforts are now being made to draw the Mary McKinney into the consolidation, and it was reported last night that these had at last been successful. This property is in the same general zone as the others, and it is stated by experts, could easily be operated, from a geographical standpoint, by the same management.

The merging of the Cripple Creek properties into large corporations has long been prophesied, due to the fact that they could be more economically operated if they were jointly owned. Dividends and profits, amounting approximately to $5,000,000, have been earned by the properties in the above proposed consolidation. Owing to the advances in the El Paso, and to the development of the other mines, the largest factor in the consolidation.

All the properties included are in the zone first affected by the Roosevelt dam, and the property which has already been developed, and the shafts of the companies concerned.

It is expected that the results of the examination and measurement of the El Paso ore reserves by a corps of engineers will be made public next week.

CLAIMS CAUSE HOLDUP OF PAVING COMPANY'S CASH

At its meeting yesterday, the city council authorized the payment of $12,000 of the $22,672.10 due the J. F. Hill Paving Company, pending an adjustment of the claim made by Ed Honnen against Alvin Smith, both subcontractors.

All claims against it, except that of according to the statement filed by Smith, for $7,443.75, have been settled by the paving company. This claim will be settled as soon as the city pays the company. Honnen, one of the contractors employed by Smith and paid by him, is holding up final payment. Two contracts were made by the men, one of them making Smith owe Honnen $1,400 and the other making him owe $9,245.48, according to Honnen's estimates. The city would be made defendant in the suit brought by one of the contractors against the other, and the council will demand a release from both before paying the Hill company.

It was decided that an expert should be appointed to test the quality of gas that is being furnished householders by the Colorado Springs Light, Heat and Power company. The man will be chosen soon, and will make tests to determine the relative heat-producing quality of a given volume of gas.

The weed and rubbish ordinance was referred to the council as a committee of the whole, for further consideration. Under the ordinance, proper notice shall be given to owners, residents or lessees when weeds on their property shall be cut, and if this notice is not heeded, the weeds are to be cut by the city and the cost assessed against the property.

Russian Count and Artist-Tramp Here on Long Trip; One Ride, Other Walks

Two unusual travelers paid Colorado Springs a flying visit yesterday. One, Count Lendenbop, late a captain of Cossacks in the army of the czar, rode proudly into town on an Arab charger and stopped at the Alamo; the other, Nicholas Vatelend Lind, poet, artist, tramp, slipped into the city at night, Thursday and occupied a cot at the Y. M. C. A. Both men are crossing the continent in a manner out of the ordinary. Count Lendenbop, who left New York two months ago, is on his way to the Pacific coast on horseback. Lindsay is walking.

"It is the only way to really see the country," said the count to a group of guests in the Alamo lobby. "You can't catch the spirit of the plains in a Pullman. And a Russian is the only one who can truly appreciate America. We are big as you are big. The steppes and the plains have much in common, after all."

MILK TESTERS TO VISIT M. W. A. PRIZE CORN FIELD

On the occasion of the picnic of the Colorado Association of Milk Testers, at the Modern Woodmen sanatorium, north of this city, next Wednesday morning, work will be begun cutting the corn which has been raised at the sanatorium this year and filling the silos. Dr. J. A. Rutledge, superintendent of the sanatorium, believes they have 200 acres of the best corn ever raised in Colorado, and wishes to demonstrate their methods of culture to all the farmers of the region. The means of doing this is by making good green fodder for dairy cattle during the winter months will also be shown.

Dr. Rutledge invites everybody in the state to be present at the demonstration and picnic, next Wednesday. He believes that, with proper methods, the production of the sanatorium farm can be doubled or trebled.

FINDS FOSSILIZED FISH

Several excellent specimens were found at the fossil beds near Florissant, Thursday, by N. L. Drew and John Best of the Midland road, one fossilized fish, 12 inches long, being brought out of the ground intact. Prof. George Alexander Barker, who will teach physiology at the high school this year, also made a trip through the fields Thursday, securing a considerable collection. He may devote much of his time to a study of these fields.

Tomorrow marks the end of the wild-flower excursions for the summer, the last train leaving here at 9 o'clock in the morning.

POSTOFFICE WILL NOT HANDLE MAIL SUNDAYS

Although the postoffice doors will be open Sunday, and it will be possible to mail a letter, business will be practically suspended for the day. According to an order received by Postmaster Strachan, yesterday, from the department at Washington, the office will handle no mail Sundays in the future. If the order is strictly enforced, even the doors will be locked, and it will be impossible to post a letter. The reason for the order is a clause in the postoffice appropriation bill passed by the last congress, requiring that this be done.

AUGUST SALARY IS READY FOR TEACHERS

Teachers in the Colorado Springs public schools are asked to call at the office of Superintendent Cole in the DeGraff building today and receive their August salary and register for the ensuing year. A general meeting of teachers will be held Monday in the high school auditorium at 9 o'clock, when the assignment of principals and teachers will be read, after which the principals will call on the teachers in the rooms of the high school. An informal reception for the teachers will be held at the home of Superintendent and Mrs. Cole, 915 North Weber street, Monday evening from 5 to 10 o'clock. The schools will open Tuesday morning.

BIDS OPENED FOR NEW BRIDGE AT PIKE VIEW

The county commissioners yesterday opened bids for the construction of a new bridge over Monument creek at Pike View. In place of the one washed out during a cloudburst recently, twelve bids were submitted and were turned over to County Surveyor Ford, to be checked up in accordance with his specifications. Action on awarding the contract was deferred for several days. The commissioners are unable to give accurate figures relating to the bids, although the cost of the bridge will total between $6,000 and $7,000. Some contractors bid on the steel work alone, others on the concrete or cement work alone, while some gave separate estimates for both, and this delays the giving of totals.

BROTHERHOOD ENTERTAINED

Thirty members of the brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church were the guests of W. D. Quackenbush, president of that organization, at a camp fire dinner last Saturday evening at his summer home, "Camp Laugh-a-Lot," near the Holland dairy. The members of the brotherhood walked to the camp, and spent four hours there. The dinner was cooked and served outdoors, games were played, an impromptu quartet gave several selections and songs were sung.

THE "PROGRESSIVE" PARTY is the individual, man or woman who uses Foley Kidney Pills for backache, rheumatism, weak back, and other kidney and bladder irregularities. Robert W. Hester, Lawrenceville, Mo., says: "I took three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and got a permanent cure. They are healing, strengthening, tonic, and quick to produce benefit. Never sold me back. Put up in two sizes in sealed bottles. The genuine in a yellow package. The Robinson Drug Co."

Lindsay is walking to California and is paying his way by drawing pictures and writing verse and trading them for "handouts." He left his home town, Struthfield, Ill., July 4 and plans to reach the Golden Gate before snow flies.

"This is my second journey of this sort," said Lindsay. "It would surprise you how easy it is to swap poetry for good grub. I am preaching the gospel of beauty. And strange to say no one makes fun. I talk simply to the people of the mission of art and the beauty in common things. Do they respond? Well, I left home penniless and I've gotten this far."

Lindsay is a frequent contributor to the American magazine and the Independent. He left town at dawn yesterday. About the same hour the count, astride early, as befitted a captain of hardy Cossacks, turned his horse's head toward the pass and entered the Rockies on the last lap of his long journey.

COLORADO MIDLAND PLANS SERIES OF IMPROVEMENTS

The Colorado Midland railroad, after an unusually successful season, is planning new delights for the tourists who frequent the flower fields next summer. Steps will be cut in the "Rock of Ages" at Idlewild, in Granite cañon, and a stop over of one hour and a half will be made at that point to permit the excursionists to climb to the summit, 2,000 feet above the tracks. This stop over will be made today and tomorrow and the passengers will have this extra privilege for the first time this year. The train next year will have an all locomotive, doing away with the coal dust and smoke. The total number of passengers carried up to yesterday was 8,147, in 55 trips.

FERN CHARGES COLBURN WITH MISMANAGEMENT

In a petition filed in the district court yesterday, Peter Fern, a stockholder in the Keystone Oil company, charges E. A. Colburn, formerly a mining man in this city and now in the automobile business in Denver, with purposely mismanaging the affairs of the company, of which he is president, for the purpose of getting complete possession of it and its property.

The debts of the company are the result of mismanagement, according to Fern's complaint. The company has holdings in Fremont county. According to Fern, Colburn has had several chances to leave the property to those who would work it at their own expense and pay sufficient royalties to pay a substantial dividend. He asks that a receiver be appointed. Colburn has said the Keystone company for money alleged to be due him, and Fern has filed a petition of intervention.

LOOK FOR MISSING BOY

The police are searching for Cecil Fuller, the 13-year-old son of Mrs. M. E. Barner, 732 North Pine street, who disappeared from his home Sunday night and has been neither seen nor heard of since. It is feared he has met with foul play.

REV. PRATT WILL PREACH

The Rev. James H. Spencer, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been called to North Adams, Mass., because of the death of a friend. He expects to return next week and with his family will take up his residence at 327 North Pine street. The Rev. E. B. Pratt of Kansas City will preach tomorrow morning and evening at the First Baptist church.

First Auto Polo Game Proves Real Thriller

In the first professional auto polo game ever played in America the Sterling-Miller team won yesterday's match, three goals to two at Washburn field. There was a good crowd of enthusiasts at the opening game, and the new outdoor sport promises to become popular. The teams will play again this afternoon at 3:30.

As indicated by the name auto polo is played in automobiles, the cars taking the place of ponies in regulation polo. In addition to the driver each machine has a mallet man who clings to the narrow running board and sends the ball toward his opponent's goal while his driver does the necessary jockeying for position.

It is in the spectacular handling of the machines that auto polo makes its claim for popularity and the drivers yesterday, Walter Sterling in No. 17 and C. F. Jackson in No. 23 kept the spectators keeled up to the highest pitch of excitement by their reckless maneuvers. In announcing the game it was referred to as the newest and most hazardous sport in America, and the drivers were introduced as the most daring in the ranks of their profession.

There was one slight accident yesterday, Sterling and his mallet man, Fred Miller, being thrown out when the car turned over as Sterling was making a long sliding turn. Neither man was injured. Miller helped right the machine and the game continued with only a moment's delay.

At the start of play the ball is placed in the center of the field and at the referee's pistol shot the cars are sent toward it at full speed. If the mallet man misses his stroke, his driver throws out the clutch, jams the brakes and spins the steering wheel with the result that the car skids clear around as though on a pivot. Collisions are averted or have been thus far for the reason that according to the rules of the game the cars must always turn to the right. The playing time is divided into periods of 15 minutes each when it is necessary to cool the machines and give the drivers a few minutes rest from the strain.

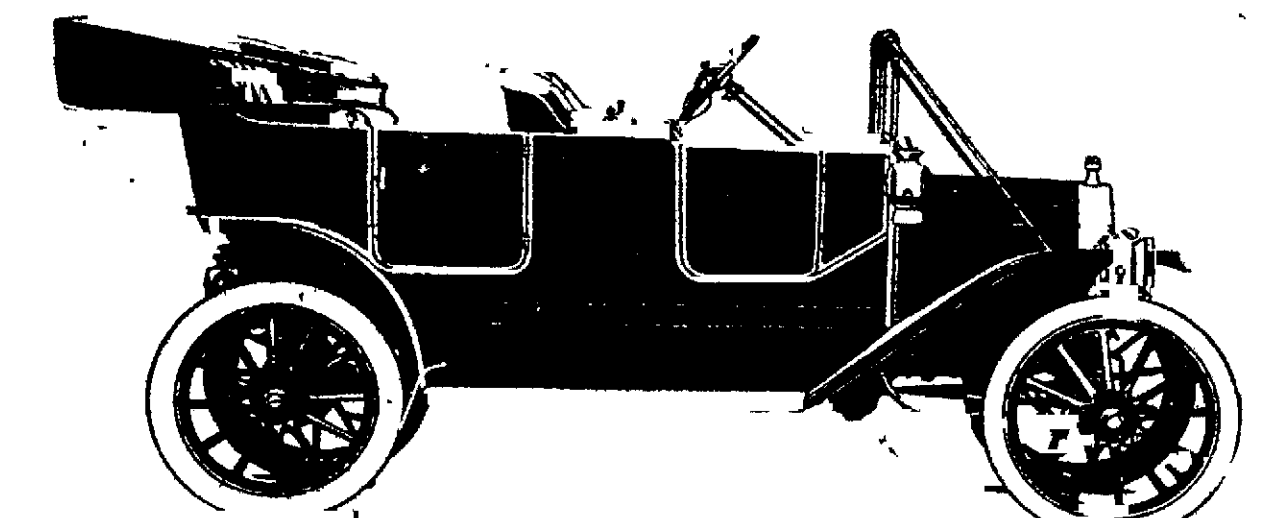

Glenn W. Blake who handles the make of car used by the auto polo players refereed yesterday's game and declares that racing is like dominoes compared with it. After the match he said:

LAST OFFER MADE HASSAN YOUSOUF

Hassan Yousouf is still out in the rain and in the language of the post today is his last chance to get under cover. He is given until this evening the manager of Yusuf Hussain says to decide whether he wants to wrestle the Terrible Turk and there will be no repeating of the early editions in case Yousouf should change his mind at the eleventh hour.

Yousouf has demanded a guarantee of $125 to meet the Turk in a handicap match. Chicago Sunday guarantee him this amount. But the articles of agreement must be signed today. The match is for next Thursday night. This is the guarantee Yousouf asks but if this is not satisfactory Hussain will meet him winner take all and agree to throw him 10 times in an hour.

Yousouf claims to be a wrestler and here is a chance for him to meet the Turk and receive $125 and lose it. That's more than the winner will get. Can you picture him in Mirco or any of the other grapples sidestepping, an offer like that for an hour's work on the mat? This is Yousouf's last chance to come in.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LEGISLATION

UNDER the present law in Colorado if a workman is injured while at his regular work he must, in order to secure any monetary return for the injury that he has suffered, bring suit against his employer for damages.

The employer may escape liability by answering that the business is a dangerous one and that the employee "assumed the risks" when he became connected with the work. If the injury was caused by an unguarded machine, even though the machine should have been guarded according to the provisions of a state law, the employer may prove that the employee was cognizant of its unguarded condition and, thereby, escape liability for the injury. In such a case the employer has, again, "assumed the risks" of the employment. The courts of law virtually say this to employees: "You are responsible for the enforcement of the state safety appliance laws, if your employer does not obey the laws you must tell him sharply that he must obey them, if he does not mind you, you must leave his employment; if you remain and get injured you cannot get damages."

If the injury results in part from the employer's fault but the injured employee's fault contributes thereto so that the injury would not have occurred without it, the employer is relieved from all liabilities. This is the defense of "contributory negligence."

PRINCIPLE OF COMPENSATORY LEGISLATION.

A workmen's compensatory law would make an absolute departure from the common law principle of employers' liability based on fault, which has been described in the preceding paragraphs, and the substitution therefor of the principle of compensation. This principle involves, in the main, the following points:

1. The placing of the monetary burden of injuries upon the industry in which such injuries occur, and the payment for injuries or death irrespective of fault or negligence except where caused by wilful misconduct or other aggravation of responsibility;
2. The benefit payable to bear a definite relation to the former earning capacity, subject to minimum and maximum amounts, and not intended to give full indemnity;
3. The payment of a benefit in periodical installments, subject to commutation to a lump sum under specified conditions;
4. Denial of compensation for a brief initial period, in order to eliminate the great mass of insignificant injuries, but liberal provision for medical treatment;
5. Abrogation of the right of action at common law and of the principle of liability, except where the fault of the employer is aggravated.

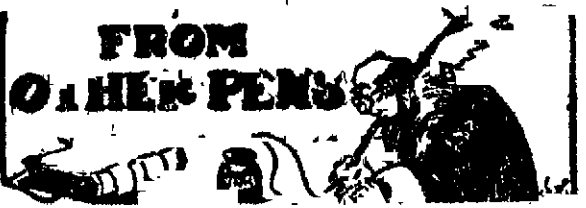

The compensation for injuries may be provided in any of the following ways:

1. The burden may be made to fall entirely upon the employer of the injured workman, so that an employer who does not have accidents in his establishment is not required to bear any burden; or
2. There may be an compulsory insurance arrangement among employers doing the same line of business, and, hence, a distribution of losses among all employers in that line; or
3. There may be a combination of the two principles just named, so that any employer does not pay the entire compensation, but the amount that he pays increases or decreases as the number of accidents in his establishment increases or decreases.

Workmen's compensation legislation has been adopted in thirteen states; the United States government has extended its compensation for workmen in dangerous employment to all employees under the Isthmian Canal commission; a federal government commission on workmen's compensation has just reported some twenty state commissions, including one in Colorado, are at work on the question. The New York law providing for workmen's compensation was declared unconstitutional by the New York Court of Appeals a year ago. This decision was the one used by Theodore Roosevelt to illustrate the need for a popular "recall of decisions."

A workmen's compensation law is a progressive measure. Such a law is on the statute books of California, Kansas, New Jersey, Wisconsin and New Hampshire. P. B. Stewart and the Progressive Republicans believe that such a law should be upon the statute books of Colorado. They are pledged to support such legislation.

WILL THE COUNTRY TRUST A PARTY THAT FAILS TO PROTECT IT?

From the New York American
Democracy like Sulzer and Curley and Lee, who are fighting so valiantly for the two battalions program in the house, are the real friends of the Democratic party, and are fighting for the life and success of the party in the future.

It would be well if these stalwart patriots could persuade the purblind and parsimonious pork-barrel politicians of the party to rescind the foolish and un-American caucus vote which shames Democracy and to put the party on record for the country's honor and defense.

But if this cannot be done the American wishes godspeed to the effort to set free honest and patriotic Democratic representatives from the thrall of an obstinate caucus, which repudiates party platform and public sentiment and resolute senate action at the other end of the capitol.

If the Democrats in congress should defy their party platform and fail to provide an adequate to the nation's needs they will utterly discredit Democratic promises and Democratic patriotism.

Patriotic citizens cannot be expected to vote for candidates of a party which repudiates its solemn pledges and defaults in patriotic obligations.

There are thousands of Americans who will think it unwise to intrust the power of government to a party of selfish sectionalism and small Americanism which manifests no conception of the nation's dangers or of the nation's duty or of the nation's destiny.

If the Democrats fail in this vital issue it is exceedingly questionable whether the electorate will deem it safe to repose the fate of the greatest nation in the world to the care of a party which by this failure would propose to contract our national possessions, and which would thereby refuse to either protect our interests abroad or safeguard our citizens at home.

The repudiation by house Democrats of their platform pledges might be dismissed by some as squalid dishonesty to party, but to default in patriotic duty to the nation would certainly be held as nothing less than treason.

IF JOHNSON "RETIRE,"

From the Kansas City Journal
Decent people everywhere will hope that the report of Jack Johnson's retirement from the prize ring is based on something more than mere sporting "sops." For there are several good reasons why Johnson should quit the fighting business, now that he has all the money he says he needs. He has won the championship belt against as dirty a lot of pugs as ever hung around a fight camp. If it had been possible to cheat Johnson out of the dubious honors that he has won it would have been done. But Johnson, in spite of his thick skull and depraved instincts, is a pretty good business man. And perhaps it is because he is a good business man that he wants to leave the prize ring. If he should fight again and lose the title he would be merely a broken-down old has-been. But if he retires a champion his vanity will be tickled the rest of his days and he will make another fortune in vaudeville.

But the best thing about the retirement of the black brute is the opportunity of eliminating prize ring contests between white men and negroes. The best manipulators of prize fighters are not at all particular about the ethics of the matter. Prize fighters themselves, with the exception of old John L. Sullivan, have seldom declined to fight, regardless of the color line. Anything to get the money has been the motto for most of them, and having got the money they generally proceed as fast as possible to spend it in such riotous fashion as to disqualify themselves from further successful fighting.

As has been pointed out time and again, prize fighting is quite bad enough at best, but contests of this kind between white men and negroes is intolerable. The result of Johnson's success has been deleterious to the negro race. It has had an evil effect upon thousands of negro boys who feel that at last here is an avenue of effort that will place them on a plane of superiority to the white race. Low whites who stoop to argument with negroes over prize fighting have picked many needless quarrels and have stimulated the spirit of racial hatred. If Johnson quits the ring there should never be another effort to groom a "white hope." If pugs must fight, let them fight members of their own race. Better, of course, that there should be no more prize fights. But contests of the ring are rendered doubly vicious and demoralizing by pitting white men against negroes.

REVIVAL OF CHECKERS.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.
In probably 10,000 attics in this country will be found reposing under a thick covering of dust as many specimens of the once famous Rogers statuette, such as "Checkers on the Farm." Forty years ago no home with any pretensions to culture was without a Rogers statuette in the parlor. They had gradually driven out the wax flowers and fruit (under oval glass) of a former generation, and these in turn had displaced shells and crasses in a vase on the what-not as emblems of culture. If one thinks of the Rogers statuette on a marble topped table, some horse hair furniture, an engrain carpet and crasson enlargements of father, mother and "our darling Willie" he will get a pretty good idea of the appearance of the social cantum in the homes of the average well-to-do American before the Centennial exhibition gave us our first impetus toward esthetic improvement.

All this is preliminary to what may seem a non-sequitur, the fact that a National Checker congress is about to meet in Ohio and fight for the championship of the world. We are glad of it. We had supposed that chess, golf and auction-bridge had driven out the homely game of checkers, sometimes known as draughts. Every boy used to know how to play checkers, but now usually devotes the time formerly given to that interesting subject to learning to smoke. If he has any sense at all it is much to be feared it is of a more objectionable character than the plain but good game of checkers. At the coming contest Philadelphians are to enter the ring and exploit the noble art of swapping kings or "manning down" an adversary. "Tis well. The man who thinks checkers is a simple game doesn't know much about it. It has the advantage of few rules, simple movements and great mental concentration. Eight hours a day for 10 days seems a big order for this contest, but the rewards are to be substantial in money as well as honorary. It may be that the revival of the ancient game will finally result in having it included in the Olympic contests of the future.

MR. TAFT'S SPEECH.

From the Kansas City Times
P. B. Stewart, a land law expert, has been called to the bar to defend Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance for the Progressive party. Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance has been the subject of much criticism. Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance has been the subject of much criticism. Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance has been the subject of much criticism.

the beginning of his campaign for renomination ideal government was described by him as "government by a representative part of the people." The keynote of his address of yesterday was in this clause of it:

"But these gentlemen propose to reform the government, whose present defects, if any, are due to the failure of the people to devote as much time as is necessary to their political duties by requiring a political activity by the people three times that which thus far the people have been willing to assume, and thus they propose remedies which, instead of exciting the people to further interest and activity in the government, will tire them into such an indifference as still further to remand control of public affairs to a minority."

Mr. Taft simply does not believe in the capacity of the people to govern themselves. In this, at least, he is squarred, and he displays backbone in expressing his unbelief. It is not impossible, even, that the president is satisfied, as he says he is, with the method in which he received his nomination. He got it from the "representative part of the people" to whom, he frankly believes, the government should be intrusted.

In this disclosure of his fundamental unbelief in democracy, Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance is as good a document for the Progressive party and for Mr. Roosevelt's leadership as Mr. Roosevelt himself could possibly put out.

In one other regard the statement is as strong for the same end. Mr. Taft presents perfectly the point of view of "the men of soft life." His satisfaction with things as they are, and his complete ignoring of all the restless demand for social service and social betterment which the Progressive party expresses are in complete accord with that estimate of Mr. Taft which the people have formed in the last three years. Mr. Taft's candid distrust of the people explains and confirms the people's equally candid distrust of him.

NOT KNOCKING THE ESTEEMED BONEHEAD.

From the Marengo (Ia.) Sentinel.
Well the Progressives may be "blatherskites," as the Williamsburg Journal-Tribune says they are, but it cannot be said that they are mongrels. It is better to be "something" in a political way, than to be "nothing" like the egotistic, boneheaded, thick-skinned blank who hands out blatant insults each week to the good people of Williamsburg and the country adjacent thereto.

An Experiment

By RUTH CAMERON.

"You may paddle all day long; but it is when you come back at nightfall and look in at the familiar room that you find love or death awaiting you beside the stove, and the most beautiful adventures are not those we go to seek."—Stevenson.

"What canst thou see anywhere that thou seest not here? Behold the heavens and the earth and all the elements, for out of these are all things made."—Thomas a Kempis.

Did you ever try to look at your home town and the country roundabout it as if you had come from a distance to see it?

Truly that is a most interesting experiment.

On a glorious summer evening just at the witching hour of sunset, three of us were drifting about in a canoe on a body of water near our home.

Said one of the three, "How lovely the water looks tonight."

Said another, "Really I don't know as I saw anything any prettier on any vacation, though I traveled two thousand miles."

At that the third member of the party sat up in the canoe and looking around as if he had suddenly seen something new and strange inquired, "Do you folks realize that if we had traveled two thousand miles to see this we would say it was one of the most beautiful places we ever saw?"

Whereupon we all sat up, and, looking out over the water through eyes from which the scales of habit had been removed for a moment, suddenly realized that what he said was true.

Is it not strange how firmly we all cling to the idea that beauty is a thing which must be hunted and journeyed after, and may never by any chance be found at home?

Next summer when we go on our vacation, some happy day when our ship comes in, and we sail away in it for a voyage around the world, then, we tell ourselves, we shall really see something very beautiful.

And all the time we look with dull eyes at the beauty which lies just outside our own door. We wonder at the peasants who live in the most beautiful part of the Alps in the wonderful places that voyagers cross the world to see, and who do not realize that there is anything beautiful in the surroundings, or even trouble to lift up their eyes to the hills.

If we fail to recognize that measure of beauty, however humble, which lies without our own doors, are we any less stupid than these peasants? Beauty is not words in a felicitous arrangement of objects. It is also in an open eye and an eager heart. "Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful," says Emerson, "we must carry it with us or we find it not."

Are you disappointed because you cannot travel? Are you fretful because there are so many beautiful things in the world that you will never see? That is hard on a friend, I admit. But hadn't you better make sure that none of those beautiful things which will never see are just beyond your own door?

THE HASKIN LETTER

THE MEXICAN SITUATION. IV THE WAR AND THE RAILROADS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The problems of the government in Mexico growing out of the revolution are multiplied and intensified by the character of the ownership of the majority of the railroads of the country. The government has a varying degree of interest in all of the railroads of the nation. The road from Vera Cruz and Cordoba to the Isthmus of Tehuantepec is owned by the government outright, and is operated by it as a part of the National railways. The country through which this road passes has experienced little trouble as far as the revolt against Madero is concerned. The road across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec is owned outright by the government, which expended much in the building of the road and the port works at Salina Cruz and Coahuila that the gross earnings do not suffice to meet even the fixed charges. It is operated by a partnership company consisting of the firm of Sir Westman Pearson and the government of Mexico as equal partners. This road has not been hit very hard by the revolution, since most of its revenues consist of the transcontinental traffic brought to the two sides of the Isthmus by the steamship lines of the Atlantic and Pacific.

In the vast majority of the other railroads of the country the government owns a majority of the stock, and thus dominates their policies. Not long after 1900, it began to look to the Mexican government as if some of the big railroad interests of the United States were about to swallow up a number of the principal roads of the country, so it was decided that the only way to overcome this danger would be for the government to buy up a controlling interest in the roads. Therefore, a new company was organized, in which the government took $230,004,580 of the $460,000,000 of capital stock. Previous to this, the government had bought quietly, in Wall street, a controlling interest in the National Railroad company. The latter gave them an outlet to the Rio Grande from the capital, via Monterrey and Laredo. A little later the Mexican Central, running from El Paso, got into financial difficulties, and the government wanted to save it. That was what led to the formation of the new holding company with the government as the possessor of the majority of the stock. Nearly four-fifths of the railroad mileage of Mexico is now under the ownership of this company, of which the government owns a controlling interest.

Business Must Meet Obligations.

But whether the government is a partner in a business or not, that business must meet its financial obligations, and in the case of this holding company they are heavy, for, be it said, Wall street was not asleep when the deal was put through. The bonds still draw interest and that interest must be met. Yet the earnings power of the National Railways has shrunk immeasurably. With traffic over a major part of the line from the capital to El Paso constantly interrupted and often all but completely suspended, and with similar situations prevailing only in a smaller degree in other sections, it will be seen that freight and passenger earnings must show a decided slump. Nor is that all. When any part of the National lines has fallen into the hands of the revolutionists, they have used it for all it is worth, collecting what funds they could from its operations.

In addition to this there arises the question of physical destruction. A dozen times or more large mileages have fallen into the hands of the rebels only to be rescued by the federalists again. A very large number of bridges have been repeatedly destroyed, and great sections of track have been torn up. In many cases the rails have been bent out of all shape to prevent their being used again. All this has fallen heavily upon the government lines, and the result is that if the government does not meet the interest charges out of the federal treasury, they will scarcely be met at all.

The revolutionists, realizing that the government is the principal owner of

News of Local Courts

In police court yesterday the case of Mrs. Sampson 717 West Cucharas street charged with soliciting, was continued

A jury in the county court yesterday adjudged Frank Lodge of this city insane and he will be committed to the state asylum in Pueblo

In the county court yesterday D. J. and M. Pinkelstein filed a money demand suit for $692.75 against J. L.
Breathitt. The plaintiffs claim they loaned the defendant $637.50 August 4, 1911 with interest at 8 per cent. on his oral promise. Neither principal nor interest has been paid, according to the complaint

A Herbert Braga, who has been held at the county jail for the last few days on a charge of passing worthless checks was released yesterday at the request of Assistant District Attorney Purcell

In the district court the hearing of the petition of Attorney W. G. Smith of Denver to have the verdict of the jury in the suit of F. L. Briggs administrator against the Stratton estate set aside on the ground that the jury was influenced by the estate, has been continued to September 4. Because of charges made against him by Smith, Attorney Strickler has withdrawn from the case. Attorney S. H. Kinsley will represent the Stratton estate.

Red McGuire was fined $60 in police court yesterday for drunkenness and in default of payment was committed less than two hours later, however, he escaped
